IN THE

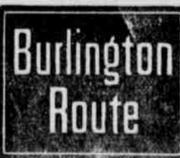

Big Horn Basin and Yellowstone Valley

All of the rivers and irrigation canals are now running bank full.

The writer has just returned from an extended inspection trip thru the Big Horn Basin and Yellowstone Valley, where he found that the farmers have all the water they can use for irrigation; crops are accordingly very fine.

OPPORTUNITY FOR INVESTMENT. Money invested in Government irrigated lands, Carey Act lands, or deeded lands in the Big Horn Basin, at present prices, is sure to bring large returns for the reason that the farmers of this country are beginning to understand that the Basin and Yellowstone Valley have an ample water supply and that the water comes down from the mountains just at the time when it is needed for irrigation.

Damage Amounting to More Than $150,000 at South Omaha.

ORIGINATES IN REPAIR SHOPS.

Flames Spread to Stock Yards, Entailing a Loss of $4,000—Fifteen Thousand Spectators Gather Around Burning Buildings.

Fire originating in the car building and repair shops of the Cudahy Packing company at South Omaha caused a loss of $150,000 to the Cudahy property and less than $5,000 to the Union Stock Yards. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

In the Cudahy plant the departments destroyed or damaged by the flames embraced an area of 375x150 feet. The car shop is a total loss, as is also the lumber and supply yards. Two storage rooms and the car lacing shed were partially destroyed.

In the Union Stock Yards the flames were confined to a small area of yardage, including four hog sheds.

The origin of the fire is in doubt. It is thought probable by the owners of the plant that a waste pile may have combusted spontaneously, or most immediately after the flames of fire had spread into a small stock game that leaped from behind its building and from shed to shed, jumping up into a mighty wall of flames that seemed to defy the efforts of the firefighters.

The wind at the time was blowing forty miles an hour, and coming from the south, swept the flames in the direction of the new $80,000 sheep barns of the Union Stock Yards. For a few minutes it appeared as if the fire would sweep the whole stock yards district notwithstanding the united efforts of the city fire department and the firemen of the different packing plants, who turned their efforts towards keeping the flames within the open area south of the stock yards. Twenty streams of water were turned on the new barns and the surrounding pens and the fight was kept up until the wind veered to the east.

RETURNS ON STATE PRIMARY

Vote Cast Last Week in Nebraska is Coming in at Last.

While the return of the votes cast at the primary is incomplete, it has progressed far enough to indicate with reasonable certainty the outcome. Sixty-nine counties have made reports on supreme judge on the Republican ticket. These cast 45,825 votes, and the tabulation of these shows that Judges Rose and Letton have been re-nominated, while Judge Francis G. Hamer has replaced Judge Root. Judge Colby is running ahead of Root, but far enough behind Letton to make it certain that the latter is re-nominated.

On the Democratic side the close races between Judge Albert and Judge Stark has ceased to be no very close. Stark gaining sufficiently to make his nomination apparently sure. Judges Oldham and Don are the other winners on the Democratic ticket, for which 25,872 votes have been tabulated.

For railroad commissioner on the Republican ticket, Hall is leading Beebe by what appears to be a safe plurality, while Harman has a similar lead over Forse on the Democratic ticket.

For regent of the university on the Democratic ticket, Miller and Knapp are in the lead.

C. M. DAVIS KILLED BY CARS

Asleep on Track When Switch Engine Sends Car Over Him.

C. M. Davis, a printer, was run over and killed in the Union Pacific yards at Columbus.

The accident occurred at the Schroeder mill where the switch engine crew went to pick up a car. The coupling did not make and the car was pushed east a short distance and the switchmen noticed that it ran over something. They made an examination and discovered Davis lying under the tracks, with both legs and one arm cut off and he was in such a position that the car had to be raised with jacks before he could be removed. He was alive when discovered, but died just as he was being taken out. He was evidently asleep on the track.

Davis leaves a wife and four grown children. He had been working at Beatrice and York for some time and had returned home a few days ago.

BARES BREAST: GETS BULLET

Fremont Man Dares Wife's Affinity to Shoot and Lather Fires.

Baring his breast to his wife's alleged affinity, Herman Wasmer of Fremont shouted, "Here's my heart, shoot if you dare," and fell with a bullet in his side. Fred Mathelsson, a well known business man, known as the "affinity" of Mrs. Wasmer, held an automatic revolver in his hand and when Wasmer made his melodramatic challenge he pulled the trigger. Wasmer, who is a signal supervisor for the Union Pacific, resented his attentions to his wife and went with her to the store to protest to Mathelsson. The men quarreled immediately and Wasmer got the better of a physical argument, which Mrs. Wasmer witnessed. Mathelsson drew the revolver from a drawer and shot Wasmer down as he stood. Then he turned to a bystander and remarked, "I wish I had killed him."

Both Mrs. Wasmer and Mathelsson are in the county jail and a charge of shooting with intent to kill will be filed against the man.

The sympathy of Mrs. Wasmer seems to be entirely with her lover, and the husband, who will recover from his wound, is forgotten.

THREE HAVE CLOSE CALL

Milk From Snake Bitten Cow Nearly Proves Fatal.

Emery Marsh, living near Ayer, his six-year-old son, and Ruby Digley of Hastings were almost fatally poisoned by drinking milk from a cow which had been bitten by a rattlesnake. Within two hours they became unconscious and were not revived for over four hours.

The farmer was in the field plowing when he was overcome, but managed to mount one of his horses and turn toward the house. Before the animal reached the barn the man was convulsive and unconscious.

Two Drowned in Stream.

Curtis, Neb., Aug. 22.—The twelfth of the big August rains fell, causing some damage to the railroads and loss of life as well. John Brown, aged seventy years, a resident of Frontier county, and Clarence Morrison of Watson, Mo., aged twenty-three years, were drowned while attempting to cross a swollen stream in a canyon northeast of Stockville. Morrison's body was recovered a short distance below, where it had caught in a wire fence. Brown's body was found a half mile farther down the stream, where it had finally lodged.

Rock Island Train Wrecked.

Floyd Oliver, brakeman, and Carl Eisler, fireman, were killed when a Rock Island freight engine crashed into an open switch at Havelock shortly before noon. The engine was going at the rate of forty-five miles per hour and turned onto its side about 200 feet from where it went, upon the siding. Art Fuller, engineer, jumped before the engine toppled over and saved himself, though he is badly injured about the arms. All of the men are residents of Fairbury, to which place they were going when the accident occurred.

Railroad Revenue Keep on Increasing.

Tabulations by U. G. Powell of the state railway commission covering the first four months of the year for the period of four years show that in the number of cars of wheat shipped within the state there was a slight decrease, an increase in the number of cars of live stock and an increase on earload and less than earload weights. Tabulations of freight received for interstate shipments show a considerable gain in revenue and the sale of passenger tickets on intra-state business shows a substantial gain.

Crop Report Shows Up Well.

Omaha, Aug. 22.—The Burlington railroad's weekly crop report shows that nearly every point on the lines west of the Missouri river was visited by rain, the precipitation running from a trace to almost three inches. The heaviest rain was at Arapahoe, where the rainfall reached 2.75 inches. Potatoes are turning out about half a crop and pastures are improving very rapidly. Fall plowing is well under way and the acreage of fall wheat to be sown will be equal to, if not greater than, last year.

Corn Crop Will Be Fine.

Practically a normal corn crop is predicted by Prof. Montgomery of the University of Nebraska for those sections of the state where several rains have lately fallen. The corn which is just now maturing and which in the last two weeks has been much benefited by showers, thinks the agricultural college man, will be well filled out and will return to the farmers many more bushels than was predicted by some of the more pessimistic cultivators earlier in the year.

Charged With First Degree Murder.

County Attorney Cook of Fremont has filed before Justice Johnson an information charging Louis Rogers and Mrs. Caroline Rietsche, the vaudeville couple, with murder in the first degree of the infant found dead ten days ago in a box car near Colon. Neither Rogers or his companion have engaged counsel for their defense.

Registration Board to Meet.

The station registration board, comprising Prof. H. R. Smith of the University of Nebraska, A. H. Strom and W. R. Mellor, has appointed inspectors and the work of inspection will be commenced after the state fair, which will be held in Lincoln, Sept. 4 to 8.

TAFT TRIUMPHANT

Wool Bill is Killed by Vote of 227 to 126.

FREE LIST LOSES, 226 TO 127

President Declares it is Impossible to Tell What Articles are Covered. Tariff Board Had No Opportunity to Report on Schedules.

After a long debate on a motion to pass the wool tariff revision bill, President Taft's veto, the house failed to pass the measure by the necessary two-thirds vote, the result being 227 to 126. This kills the wool bill.

President Taft's message, vetoing the farmers' free list bill, was read in the house. The president declared in his message that the bill was so carelessly drawn that it was uncertain just what articles were covered by it. He sharply criticized every section of the bill and declared the language too ambiguous to be practicable.

Mr. Taft objected to the principle in the bill which admits raw materials free and keeps the machinery necessary to a finished product on the dutiable list. Lastly, the president based his veto on the fact that the tariff board had no opportunity to report on the schedules affected by it.

The house failed to pass the free list bill over the president's veto, the vote being 226 to 127.

The Flood-Smith statehood resolution with the Arizona judiciary recall provision eliminated, and with changes in New Mexico's constitution to make it easier of amendment was passed by the senate, 53 to 8.

KORSHACK IS CAPTURED

Head of Alleged Arson Trust Arrested in Vancouver, B. C.

Word was received at Chicago of the arrest of David Korshack at Vancouver, B. C., who was named as the head of an alleged "arson trust" in a confession made to Fire Attorney Sullivan and the police by Leopold Dreyfus, president of L. Dreyfus & Co., wholesale clothiers, who afterward committed suicide by shooting. Leopold Dreyfus and his brother, Lazard Dreyfus, were arrested following an incendiary fire that partly destroyed the company's store June 3. They were questioned by the police for hours, when Leopold broke down and made a written confession in which he admitted that the fire was incendiary and accused Korshack of being the head of an "arson trust" which made a business of setting fires to buildings so that the owners might recover the insurance.

When the royal assent was signified the members of the lower house present broke out in loud cheering. A demonstration on their part had never before been heard in the upper chamber.
